

Activities

I believe children learn in different ways and all have different interests. I therefore plan activities and resources for each individual child. I will regularly observe the children playing and use these observations to plan the best possible learning opportunities.

I provide parents with beautifully presented Learning Journey books which include photographs (if permitted) and observations of their children. Parents are always welcome to come and talk to me about their child's development.

I will plan activities for the children based around their individual interests. This may include having focuses such as a festival or important event e.g. Diwali, Eid, Christmas, Easter, Mother's Day or topics like 'numbers' or 'nursery rhymes'.

I have read and understand the above policy.
